Dear Jeff,

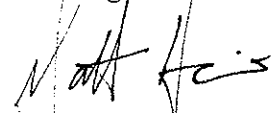

I am writing to express my appreciation for you and your company's dedication, skill, and hard work in the recent successful completion of the Integrated Systems Analysts (ISA) project at 2001 N. Beauregard Street.

In several recent meetings, key members of the ISA executive team commented upon the excellent job done in the construction of their new office space. This project had its challenges: a "drop dead" move-in date, last minute changes, and field issues that had to be solved on the fly. Nevertheless the project was completed on schedule and under budget with a high degree of craftsmanship and most importantly, a satisfied end user.

I would like to personally thank your team members with whom I have recently had the pleasure to work. In the past months, this team has stepped up to various challenges, and maintained an attitude that ensured success.

Please extend my sincerest appreciation to everyone at Trinity Group Construction and know that I look forward to working with your team in the future.

Best regards,

Matthew Harris
